

NECROLOGICAL.

DEATH OF MRS. ODELIA FRANELICH.

After a lingering illness Mrs. Odelia Franelich, relict of Thomas Franelich, passed away at her home, No. 200 Beauregard street, last night. Deceased was born in Norwich, Conn., January 10, 1836, daughter of the late Conrad and Lucy Weinheimer and came with her parents to Mobile when a child and had resided in Mobile almost continuously since until her demise. She was a consistent member of St. Patrick's church, and will be buried from the church this afternoon. Three sons, Messrs. Edward J. and Nick. Franelich of Mobile, and Mr. Henry T. Franelich of Selma, and three daughters, Mesdames William Roach, J. L. Webster and W. H. Burlison of this city, with seven grandchildren survive and mourn the death of this most estimable lady.

Child Who Died On 8th Birthday Is Laid to Rest

His playmates today escorted eight-year-old Clovis Gregory Ellis to his grave.

The child, son of Clovis R. and Amalie Franelich Ellis, 211 Beauregard st., died Saturday—on his birthday—from bronchial pneumonia. He was ill only two days.

While his playmates acted as pallbearers, classmates in the second grade of St. Patrick's school, acted as honorary escort.
